Several Persons Killed and Wounded in Cork and Dublin
in Clashes

Bullinderry, Oct. 12.—Constables Keegan and Crawford were shot dead and a sergeant and two other constables were badly wounded when a police motor car, running between Ross Commons, to Ballinacorney, was fired upon today.

London, Oct. 12.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein movement regard the speech made at Carnarvon, Wales, on Saturday by Premier Lloyd George as almost a declaration of war on Ireland, says the Dublin correspondent of the London Times.

There are many signs, continues the correspondent, that the executive department in Dublin intends to bring matters to a head as quickly as possible by a concentrated campaign against disorders which by inflicting general hardships on the country may make crime and lawlessness "truly unpopular." Projected measures are said to include complete stoppage of the Irish railway, drastic reduction of the postal service until all railway workers return to duty and until there is a cessation of raids on the mails.

ATTACK LORRY

Cork, Ireland, Oct. 12.—An attack on a military lorry in the Malloy district of Cork yesterday resulted in the death of three soldiers. It developed into another fight between soldiers on the scene and the attacking parties which according to a military headquarters report numbered 150 men was armed with machine guns, rifles and bombs.

The scene of the attack was near the town of Kanturk, the residents of which later closed their houses and shops and fled to the country, fearing reprisals.

TWO OFFICERS KILLED

Dublin, Ireland, Oct. 12.—While arrests were being made the military raids in a suburb of Dublin two officers were shot dead one non-commissioned officer was wounded and one civilian killed and one wounded according to an official report made public today.

MACWHINERY'S GIST DAY

London, Oct. 12.—Lord Mayor MacWhinery of Cork passed a good night in a British prison and was in the same restless and peaceful condition reported yesterday, a bulletin announced. This was the first day of his hunger strike.

COLUMBUS DAY
PASSED QUIETLY
THROUGH CITY

The 428th anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus passed without any special celebration. The day is a legal holiday in North Dakota. Banks of the city were closed, state and public offices closed and the schools were dismissed.

The Knights of Columbus are giving a dance tonight known as a Columbus day affair.

The history of the discovery of America in 1492 was reviewed in all of the schools of the city yesterday.

HARRINGTON TO SPEAK NOV. 11

P. G. Harrington, of this city, adjutant of the Lloyd Spetz post of the American Legion, has accepted an invitation to speak on armistice day, Nov. 11, at a big celebration to be held at Wahpeton under the direction of the American Legion post. The posts of Breckenridge and other nearby towns will join with Wahpeton in making a big celebration.

WILSON CALLS

DUTY IS PLAIN IN NORTH DAKOTA

In an eleventh hour rally, the Nonpartisan League machine is seeking to secure support for Governor Frazier on the ground that he is a member in good standing of the Republican party.

"Be Regular," is their appeal. How far this specious campaign slogan will avail in this enlightened day and generation remains to be seen. Granted for the purposes of argument only that it is sound political wisdom to vote a straight Republican ticket this fall, by what right can Governor Frazier, Townley or Lemke claim title to such party support.

Governor Frazier campaigned Montana in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. No party regularly there. He treats party labels as lightly in North Dakota when he goes before the people and urges the support of Democrats who happen to stand for his socialist schemes.

Arthur C. Townley enters the Colorado primaries in behalf of the Democratic ticket without any pang of party conscience. He sneers openly at party allegiance. The idea upon which the league is founded is antagonistic to party rule.

The Republicans of North Dakota will turn a deaf ear to the siren call of the politician who chants the moth worn argument of party regularity.

"There ain't no such animal," in North Dakota. The species has been extinct ever since Townley and his tribe of red agitators captured the party machinery and debauched it to the usages of the socialist party.

State and national issues in North Dakota are separate and distinct. Republicans and Democrats have joined hands this year to clean house and those politicians who seek to aid Townley and his exploiters by pussyfooting around the state with the antediluvian appeal, "Vote 'er straight," should get a cool reception.

Senator Henry Lee Myers of Montana, a Democrat of the old school, refuses to be drawn into any allegiance with Townley through any party appeal. He has openly repudiated the Democratic state ticket which wears the red label of the socialist party.

North Dakota needs the same kind of courage and to set aside party regularity this year and support the fusion state ticket.

This state has suffered enough from the men who are exploiting it and fostering class hatred. There is no necessity to make any sacrifices for them upon the altar of party regularity.

Turn a deaf ear to the wily politician who advises you to be regular this fall and vote for Frazier and the other Townley henchmen because they happen to be running on the Republican ballot in North Dakota through virtue of controlling the party machinery.

Just remember that Mr. Frazier and Mr. Townley do not care a fig for party regularity. They are interested only in getting into office by the easiest route possible.

If North Dakota is sincere in its determination to win next month, the voters must have the same indifference to party as Frazier, Townley, Lemke and the other state socialistic leaders.

FIX DOLLAR AS
BASIS IN WORLD
RATES FOR MAILSweeping Changes in Present
Postal Regulations Are Urged in Report

TO FIX MAXIMUM RATES

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Changes of sweeping importance in the postal relations of the world will be effected as a result of the deliberations of the International Postal Union congress during the last week. Several committees dealing with various subjects already have drafted their reports, which must be submitted to the full general committee and thereafter to the whole congress for final approval but as the committee in most cases fairly represent the views of the entire body of delegates their reports are virtually certain of acceptance.

The notable items on which the committees reported favorably are:

1. On Gold Dollar Basis. Establishment of international payments for the transportation of mails on a gold dollar basis.
2. The fixing of an increased maximum rate for postage on international mail, but with the provision that the United States and other countries may retain the present rates or fix their rates according to their own ideas as long as they do not exceed the maximum accepted by the union.
3. In future congresses only parent countries will have voting power colonies being excluded from voting although they may send delegates.
4. Creation of a Pan-American postal union.

Money Transition

There was a long discussion over the question of payment for the transit of mails owing to the extreme variation in money values in European countries since the war. But all the delegates eventually agreed that some firm basis must be chosen and the gold dollar was adopted as the most stable.

The eastern and western hemispheres were sharply divided on the question of an increase in international postal rates. The American opposing augmentation on the ground that such a measure was calculated to injure commercial interests greatly and was unnecessary for revenue purposes. The new maximum rate had not yet been fixed by the committee having the matter in hand, but the United States and the Latin-American countries declared they would not agree to an increase. The committee seeing their firm stand finally accepted the gold dollar as the western hemisphere could fix its own rates if they did not exceed the maximum eventually adopted by the union. The question of voting power for colonies was hotly debated Germany joining the Latin Americans.

More than half of the delegates of the Washington conference are women. Their email and gile heads are especially adapted to the work required.

From Governors

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—The shooting to death yesterday of a negro guard at a cotton gin in Arkansas, numerous fires of undetermined origin in which cotton has been destroyed and widespread threats of night riders to burn gins whose owners ignore warnings to discontinue operations until the staple reached a price of 40 cents a pound have resulted in the issuance of proclamations by Governor Brown of Arkansas and Governor Killey of Alabama and statements of their positions by General Dorey, of Georgia, and Cooper, of South Carolina.

GOV. COOLIDGE
INVADES SOUTH

Boston, Oct. 12.—Governor Coolidge will leave for Philadelphia and a southern tour on Thursday in connection with his campaign as Republican candidate for vice president. He will speak in Philadelphia on Friday night and will then go to Washington where he will board a special train next Sunday for a week's speaking trip through six border and southern states. He will return to Boston on October 21. He will be accompanied by John Hedges of New York and Governor Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky.

81,545 MOTOR
CARS IN STATE

The growth of the use in automobiles in North Dakota is shown by figures of the motor vehicle registration department. In 1916 there were 40,416 automobiles and motor trucks registered. This increased to 62,991 in 1917 to 76,857 in 1918 and in 1919 and in the first six months of 1920, 81,545 vehicles were registered. This is about one motor vehicle to each eight persons in the state.

CONSTRUCTION
OF ROADS BY
STATE URGEDHighway Engineer Would Enter
Into Building on Large
Scale

BUY MATERIALS ALSO

Increased Auto Fees and Increased Salaries Also Are Urged

Increased appropriations for the state highway department a fund to enable the state to enter into actual construction work on a large scale the purchase and resale to contractors by the state of cement, steel timber and other materials a bond issue for state highway construction and the use of convict labor by the state highway commission in the maintenance and manufacturing work are recommended by W. H. Robinson state engineer, in his report to Governor Frazier.

Great stress is laid in the voluminous report on the recommendations for increased salaries and an increased budget for the department. Among the recommendations are:

1. An adequate budget to enable the state to publish a bulletin regularly.
2. Expansion of the principle of state aid and providing larger state aid fund to enable counties to secure state and federal aid on highway projects up to 75 per cent of the cost of construction.
3. Construction and maintenance of the entire state highway system at present 5,000 miles by use of state funds alone without using county money.

Double Auto Fee! In addition to a bond issue raising funds it is suggested that the present automobile registration fees be doubled.

Require drivers of automobiles to be licensed and prohibiting persons under 16 years of age from driving on public highways.

Prohibit the working out of poll taxes and making the contract system compulsory.

Make convict labor available for use by the state highway commission for such work as maintaining the new Missouri river bridge making concrete pipe culverts sign boards etc. using jail inmates for road work in towns and counties.

The report points out that millions of dollars which must be matched by the state will be available from the federal government for road work. On June 1, 1920, it stated the total federal aid road work constructed or under contract was $1,782,007.40, the total mileage 69,561 and the average cost per mile $25,152. There is in prospect federal aid to the amount of $8,500,000 if the state matches the amount it is stated.

Revers to Criticism. The reports refer to what it says is "considerable criticism directed against the highway department on the cost of engineering. It shows that in 1917 the cost for preliminary surveying per mile was $25,494 and of engineering $29,772 per mile. In 1920 the cost had advanced to about $45 per mile for surveying and $65 per mile for making plans. The report defends the increased cost and asserts it is relatively low.

In the matter of supervision and inspection of construction if criticism is to be directed against the department it is to be on the ground that inadequate inspection, both as to quality and number of inspectors, engineers etc. has been provided rather than that it cost too much, says the report.

Advocating the taking over of the maintenance of the designated state highways and regarding the present maintenance work the report says:

It is a foregone conclusion at this time at least that a patrol system is doomed to unsatisfactory results generally. Farmers cannot be relied upon to drag it the proper time, adding that the proper time is when farm work is probably more important than road work.

Regarding Irrigation

Regarding irrigation the report says: The possibilities in western North Dakota for irrigation on an extensive scale are very limited indeed. There are however numerous opportunities for small projects along most of the streams. Occasionally where the topographical features are favorable for easily constructing reservoirs the spring runoff from conifers and other small water courses may be stored for use on limited tracts. It is believed that these small projects should be encouraged and all assistance possible rendered.

Quoting a law in existence in South Dakota the state engineer urges that legislation be enacted to control the flow of artesian wells saying the water supply furnished by Dakota sandstone and other water bearing strata is being rapidly depleted and that great deal of water is wasted.

Although there are ninety-eight employees in the department a number more in the motor vehicle registration department it is stated the force is inadequate.

Among other things the engineer urges the authorization of the appointment of a true master and assistant. Higher salaries are urged. The report states that these should not be prescribed except for the exact.

SWINGS OUT OF STATE

Candidate Leaves Front Porch
for Fourth Speech-Making
Trip Outside Ohio

Marion, O., Oct. 12.—After an important statement delivered yesterday afternoon in which he declared the old order of world affairs was ended Senator Warren G. Harding Republican nominee for the presidency was to leave this afternoon on his fourth speech-making trip outside of Ohio. His circuit will carry him through Kentucky Tennessee and Indiana and will wind up Saturday night at St. Louis. It may be his last trip away from home during the campaign.

Senator Harding said in his statement here that America must play its part in aiding formation of an association of nations that will discourage or tend to prevent war, and that will encourage or tend to encourage a better understanding.

Such an association he said could be formed without sacrifice of American sovereignty or impairment of the American constitution.

Explaining why he restated his proposal in a statement the senator said that while he was unalterably opposed to going into the league of nations as that particular proposition stands, he wanted the people to understand also my thought of co-operation.

The senator's statement said it seems to me that there should not remain a shadow of a doubt as to my exact position as regards the proposed league of nations as drafted and submitted to the senate and as regards the great world sentiment for a better understanding among nations to discourage war and generally to advance civilization. Let me restate my position as explicitly as my power of words permits.

First—I am unalterably opposed to going into the league of nations as that particular proposition stands. That proposal is contemptuous of and potentially destructive of the American constitution. It is not favored by the American people.

Second—I am in favor of a world association that will discourage or tend to prevent war and that will encourage or tend to encourage a better understanding among the nations of the earth. The old order of things is done with not only in America but throughout the world, and the United States always quick with sympathy always just and usually led by common sense must play its part in this new order.

Third—I believe such an association can be formulated without wrecking the constitution that remains the cornerstone of our liberties and of our happiness without seizing or flitting the sovereignty that is our pride and our inspiration to fine living and good works.

Fourth—I earnestly believe that the conscience of the ready sympathy the sense of justice and the plain common sense of the United States can be depended upon by the rest of the world and that it would be stupid as well as unlawful to attempt to chain our sympathies our sense of justice and our common sense to tie these strong fine dependable American qualities to the possibly selfish ambition and aims of foreign nations or groups of nations whose ideals are not the same as ours have been and never will be.

Fifth—it is my purpose when elected to take the whole people into my confidence as regards these matters to seek their advice and more importantly to act constantly with their advice and to this end it will be my pleasure as well as my duty to call into conference with me the best minds the clearest minds that America affords. I think God that the time has come when I can ask the advice of American women and especially the mothers of America.

Life in the penitentiary pulled on Harry Orton serving a life term for murder. He walked away. And he still going. It is supposed for him his been absent from the prison about 18 hours and hasn't returned.

Orton came from Hannaborton, Towne county near the Canadian border and had been in the prison since 1915. He was sentenced for murder.

Orton was known as a model prisoner and rather competent. He has been an honor man for quite a time at the prison. He formerly worked outside on the farm. Later he was in charge of the chicken ranch and ran it successfully. He formerly was a farmer. Later he was employed in the office.

As an "honor" man he was allowed privilege and he walked out of the prison gates. It is believed by Warden Blair that he despaired of getting a pardon. He had made inquiry of the secretary of the prison board it was said and found his chances were not bright.

The live prisoners that have escaped since he assumed control of the prison in the spring were all honor men but when he came there Warden Blair said and they were continued on their honor.

Two negro prisoners are said also to have tried to escape the other day but were caught as they were mounting the brick wall.

Since 1902 there has been a steady increase of women entering the educational profession.

BANK MAKES ITS "PROFITS" THROUGH
SACRIFICE OF OTHER STATE BRANCHESOver $30,000 of Profits Is Money Lost to State Treasurer's Office
by Switch of Deposits

How the Bank of North Dakota makes profits is shown in figures compiled here on deposits in the bank by the state treasurer. The average monthly balance of the state treasurer in the Bank of North Dakota from Sept. 30, 1919 to Aug. 31, 1920, one year was $1,230,023.22. Before the Bank of North Dakota came into existence the state received interest of 2 per cent or more from banks on this amount of money. The Bank of North Dakota pays 2 per cent and then deposits the money in the bank.

AMERICAN WOMAN
ARABIAN CAPTAIN

NEW YORK.—Word has been received here by Red Cross officials that Miss Anna Fisher of New York formerly a Red Cross worker in France and who is now with the Near East Relief Workers in Syria has been made a full-fledged captain in the Arabian army of Prince Faisal at Damascus. Miss Fisher is in charge of the industrial education of women and children in Damascus. Although the French have deposed Prince Faisal, the prince's Arabian army is said to be virtually intact.

League Park, Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Cleveland, the American League pennant winners are the world baseball champions of 1920. They defeated the Brooklyn by a score of 3 to 0 today and won the big championship in baseball. The "Big Pole," Coveleskie, winning his third game of the series, held Brooklyn helpless. The series ended with five victories for Cleveland and two for Brooklyn.

The championship rested with the winner of the game in a series of nine. The Indians made a desperate fight to win the fifth game on their own grounds today. Had they lost the next game would have been played in Brooklyn.

Play by Innings

FIRST INNING
Brooklyn—Olson popped to Gardner. Sheehan flied out to Jamieson. Johnston took Griffith's grounder and tossed to Coveleskie who failed to touch the bag. It was an error. Wheat popped to Wambegans. No runs no hits no errors.

SECOND INNING
Brooklyn—Sewell threw out Myers at first. Gardner threw out Koney Kilduff out at first. Sewell to Johnston. No runs no hits no errors.

Cleveland—Kilduff threw out Smith at first. Sheehan took Gardner's grounder and threw over Konetchy's head and Gardner was allowed to walk down to second. Johnston walked. Sewell lined out to Griffith. Kilduff threw out O'Neill at first. No runs no hits one error.

THIRD INNING
Brooklyn—Miller lanned. Grimes got a Texas leaguer back of short. Sewell muffed Olson's grounder and it went for an error. Sheehan's grounder hit Olson on the leg and Olson was declared out. Sheehan was credited with a hit. Griffith flied out to Smith. No runs, two hits one error.

Cleveland—Coveleskie fanned. Grimes took Jamieson's drive and threw him out at first. Wambegans flied out at first. Kilduff threw out Speaker at first. No runs one hit one error.

FOURTH INNING
Brooklyn—Wheat singled but was out trying to make second on a throw to Wambegans. Gardner took Myers' bunt and threw him out at first. Koney flied to Jamieson. No runs one hit no errors.

Cleveland—Smith out to Koney by unassisted. Gardner hit past Kilduff. Johnston singled to right. Gardner pulling up at third. Sewell flied to Wheat. Gardner scored on a delayed steal. It was a stolen base for Johnston. O'Neill flied out to Griffith. One run two hits one error.

FIFTH INNING
Brooklyn—Kilduff lined out. Speaker. Sewell took Miller's grounder and threw him out at first. Grimes up. Coveleskie knocked down his wicked smash and threw him out. No runs no hits no errors.

Cleveland—Coveleskie fanned. Johnston smashed an infield hit. Wambegans stole second. Jamieson scored. (Continued on Page Two)

"FRIVOLITIES OF 1920" COMING

LEILA RICHARD

"Frivolities of 1920," a high-stepping, vividly colored musical revue but lately impertinent occupant of the 44th Street Theatre, New York, will come into the Auditorium here Thursday, Oct. 14.

"Frivolities" is a welter of singing, dancing and comedy novelties and specialties, flecked with a satiric touch, swinging along to music that ranges from the jazzical to the classical, and employing in its hilarious processes the talents of the highlights of the varieties and the musical comedy stage.

"Frivolities" has a cast of 100 in which is incorporated the nimble-kneed and eloquent-shouldered "frivol chorus of fifty" comics, dancers, songsters, they combine in a festival of beauty and fun such as seldom floods the stage. The Anderson revue is distinctive for its speed. No fewer than nineteen scenes or episodes, are crowded into three hours entertainment with the result that seldom do the two feet of any of its members touch the floor at the same time. If the crowds of the beautiful women have a masculine appeal, no less an appeal does the parade of the superlatives of the modiste and the milliner have for the women. It is the kind of a show that fizzes up from the bottom and sends the cork ceilingward.

Royal Neighbors

The Royal Neighbors will meet in regular session Wednesday evening at Elks' hall at eight o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Beautifuling with soap and water

HERE is a way to make washing your face an actual beauty treatment. It will keep your complexion smooth and soft.

You must use Palmolive soap, because of its soothing mildness. You must massage the creamy Palmolive lather gently but thoroughly into your skin, so that it penetrates every tiny pore.

Then, when you rinse this lather off, all clogged up dirt, oil secretions and dried perspiration come with it.

Your skin will be clean—thoroughly, healthfully clean, with no poisonous accumulations left to cause ugly blackheads and disfiguring pimples. Dry skins also need Palmolive Cold Cream, often before as well as after washing. This supplements the lack of natural oil and keeps the texture satin smooth.

You couldn't risk such thorough cleansing with ordinary soap. There would be danger of irritation. But the bland creamy lather of Palmolive doesn't roughen even the most sensitive skin.

Made from the mildest ingredients

Palmolive couldn't be anything but mild. It contains no ingredients that could make it harsh.

It is the modern combination of the Palm and Olive oils Cleopatra used both as cosmetic and cleanser.

Why Palmolive is popular priced

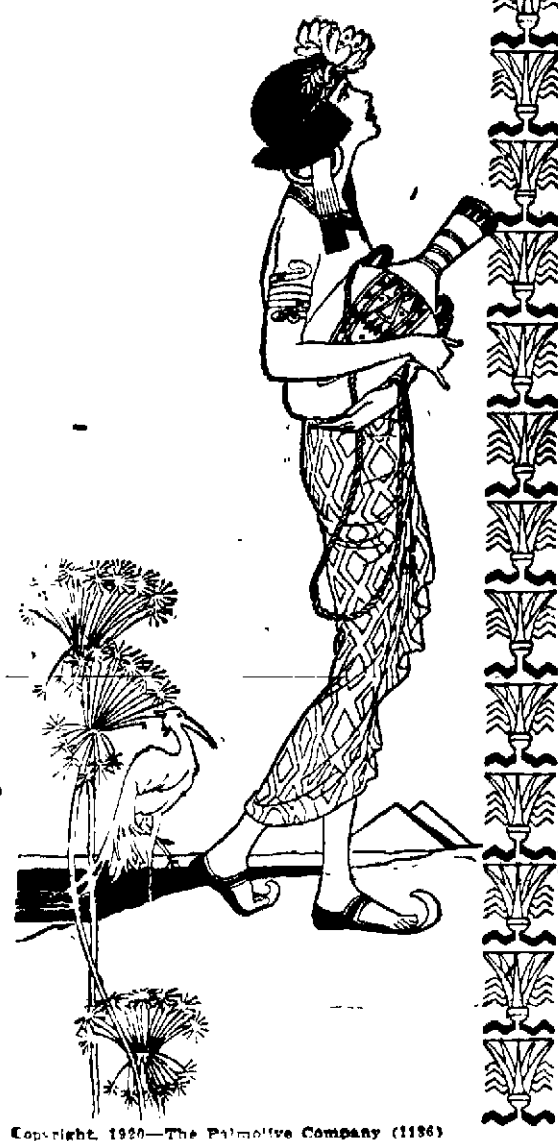

Simply because public demand is so enormous that it reduces manufacturing cost.

The Palmolive factories are never idle, night or day. All ingredients are bought in vast quantities.

Thus you need pay no premium for Palmolive quality. It is America's favorite toilet luxury, sold at a popular price.

INDIAN SUMMER

That is a charming season of the year, those lazy, hazy days that come in late October or early November, which everybody recognizes as "Indian summer."

Just past the fitful, spitting gusts of closing autumn, and just before winter tightens its grasp for its season, folk look forward to Indian summer with a wistful yearning. And rightly so, too, for that is a beautiful period.

But why "Indian summer?" What did Lo have to do with it?

One remembers the Pilgrim Fathers, and the bleak New England coast upon which they landed. The knew little about the conditions of climate. With October came frost, and snow flurries, and hissing storms. "We will now have winter," they said. But the Indian out of his perfect knowledge of nature, and because of his weather wisdom shrugged, smiled, looked to the sky above and "felt" the west wind. Then he answered: "We'll have summer again before winter."

Lo was right. Late in October it grew warm again. "The air was filled with slanting sunshine—the world was wrapped in sleepy warmth."

"Lo, the Indian's summer," said the Pilgrim Fathers.

INITIATIONS

To "intimate" is to begin, and formal "invitations" come at the beginning of one's life in college or boarding school, fraternity or secret order.

To outside observers they may seem merely silly, cruel and dangerous (as they often are); and one may wonder why any sensible person should submit to unnecessary pain and terror or to the degradation of absolute obedience to the commands of howling tormentors. But year after year the game goes on, and to those who participate it seems like a part of the very nature of things.

Amongst primitive peoples the initiation of young men into the tribe is regarded as most important. Ordeals and ceremonies may be continued through weeks and months, with every detail carefully planned by the old men of the tribe. And when at length the youth comes through he has proved his power to endure and to obey, he has learned the sacred secrets of the tribe, and he has a keen sense of his responsibilities to it.

A small tribe is everything to its members, from family to school and church and state, and to lose one's standing in it is like being disowned, expelled, excommunicated and outlawed all at once, while on the other hand, initiation is like a combination of graduation, confirmation and coming of age, with adoption and naturalization thrown in, in the case of outsiders.

When children cast off their mothers' apron strings they begin to explore a larger world beyond the home. There they adventure and experiment and play and fight with other children, learning all sorts of useful things, but saved from the burden of earning a living or helping to work out the destinies of a larger group.

But the group consciousness is there. Children take supremely for the opinions of other children—of the gang; and as they grow up and pass into the fellowship of higher and higher groups they are glad to undergo the successive ordeals that prove a capacity and a willingness to assume new types of loyalty.

Man was made for life in a tribe or herd. In civilized society artificial ordeals are hardly necessary. One can prove courage and loyalty in other ways. But they fit human nature. And so they persist.

ITALY'S DEPENDENCE

"Make a revolution and die of starvation!" That was the warning of the moderate Socialists to the radicals in the Italian Socialist movement at the last congress of the Socialist Party in Italy. What the moderates meant was that Italy cannot feed her own population but is entirely dependent upon the world outside for food imports. They meant that revolution in Italy would mean blockade, as in the case of Russia, and that Italy would starve to death if the blockade should be effective.

Striking confirmation of this prediction is to be found in the official estimates of Italian crops for 1920, just made public by the Italian Ministry of Agriculture.

Italy has always had to import wheat. But next year, she must import more than usual, for the 1920 crop, estimated at 4,006,500 tons, is more than 600,000 tons short of the 1919 crop and is 760,000 tons short of the ten-year average production for 1908-1919. The estimated production of rye, 121,400 tons for 1920, is 8000 tons under the ten-year average. The barley crop, estimated at 132,000 tons for 1920, is likewise away under the ten-year average; and the 392,700-ton oat crop estimated for 1920, compares very unfavorably with the ten-year average of 505,400.

It is a dark outlook in any case. Will Italian labor listen to the extremists who say that the allies will never dare blockade Italy if the revolution is made, or that supplies can be got from Russia in any case? The decision is not yet made. It will be a portentous one for all Italy and the world as well when it is made.

The candidates are finding this is heckleberry time.

Whether they convict those ball players or not, they got rid of them and that's the main thing.

The Pilgrim celebraters are having more trouble than the original bunch did 300 years ago.

It was Villereal, not the real Villa, who lost his job in the Mexican army because of treason.

THE ISSUE FOR THE FARMERS

Do the farmers of Minnesota want to market their grain through a political machine or through a co-operative agency of their own?

That is substantially the question put up to them by J. A. O. Preus, the Republican candidate for Governor.

The Nonpartisan league asks that it be empowered to create elaborate State machinery for the marketing of grain, to man it with its own political appointees, to add the bill of expense to the tax load and to experiment with its own socialistic plans of State ownership and operation.

Mr. Preus begins by frankly admitting that the present processes of grain marketing give just basis for complaint by farmers. But he counsels them to achieve their own remedy by adopting the co-operative idea that has worked so well with other agricultural products. And he adds that such a co-operative scheme should be fostered by State agencies—very much, no doubt, as the Farm Bureau movement is already fostered.

Indeed, this movement may readily be utilized to furnish the foundation for co-operative grain marketing. It has its bureau in every county, or soon will have. It does not seek to dominate the farmer, but to help him. It does not ask for his money, or for the custody of his voice. It does not aim to build up a great political machine. It is merely an aid to self-help.

The farmers of Minnesota will not help themselves by putting the Socialist leaders of the league in power and giving them the opportunity to exploit the taxes and the credit of the State in visionary experiments of State socialism.

The farmers of Minnesota will help themselves by running their own business in a business-like way, seeking only such counsel and aid from State agencies as will make such a course successful.

There have been attempts at co-operative grain marketing before this in Minnesota. Their chief fruitage has been the building of numerous farmers' elevators. Where they have failed has been in the proper correlation of these agencies and the establishment of effective connections in the primary markets. It is in this latter respect that the help of the State can best be enlisted.

As Mr. Preus points out, the grain growers of Western Canada have made a success of co-operative marketing and without the construction of a political machine. Minnesota farmers under wise leadership can do as well.

The devices of state socialism will not serve. They are both expensive and inefficient. The farmers can build their own machine and run it. They would be foolish to engage a lot of Socialist agitators and demagogues to boss the job.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Experiences Of Hiram Wise

INTRODUCTION

"Hiram Wise" is a farmer of the old school who believes in the "emancipation" of humanity. He is a forward looking man, he is one of the first to join the Nonpartisan league when its organizers visited his community. While his varied experiences are told in story form, practically every one of them has been duplicated in real life.

"Bobs" speech has been written in dialect in order to carry out the general idea. It is "Hiram" who is doing the talking, telling the reader of his experiences with the Nonpartisan league in emancipating North Dakota.

—The Author.

(Chapter IV.)

Trouble Dark Begins to Brew
Somehow, right from the first the business men of Henroost Center did not take kindly to the Nonpartisan league. Harry Hawkins, our banker called me into his office one day and told me that the feller at the head of the organization was a crook and a rafter himself, said he'd been mixer up in a big farm scheme out in the western part of the state, and none broke, leaving his creditors to hold the empty yuck.

He said he bein' a man of responsibility, position as a deacon of the church, it behooved me to look into things before I got mixed up with a bunch of socialists said leader havin' run on the socialist ticket and got beat in the election before this. Now I knew Harry, an' also his father before him, an' wuz sure that he wuz speakin' fer my own good so I sez: "Well, Harry, I'll do just what you say I'll look into things a little closer an' find out all I can about this league."

The followin' Wednesday we wuz to have a league meetin' in the school house where we voted at an' the league sent two speakers out, one a bit of a feller with whiskers all over his face, an' the other the candidate fer state treasurer. The same bein' the feller who won out over Jason Trumbull in Fargo. So me an' Mary Ann went over to hear what they had to tell us, an' believe me we got an' earful. The little feller wuz sure some talker an' he jumped aroun' like a pup at a circus, this way an' that, wavin' his hands an' clappin' 'em together, reminded me o' us when we have contracted meetin' an' get full o' religion, you know what I mean, but it wuzn't religion that bothered this feller, no sires he wuz plumb full of the idea that he wuz goin' to save the poor farmer from the evils that encompassed him, an' make him see the light o' truth an' reason. I'm usin' his words, not mine. When he'd got done talkin' the other feller asked whether any o' us wanted to ask any questions, an' I riz an' said I had a few that bothered me, so he said I should tell what they wuz, an' I told him what Harry Hawkins had said and asked if it wuz true or not.

Before he could answer the little guy (I found out his name wuz Mills) jumped up an' said: "Let me tell you something, my friends. The business men are your enemies, every one o' them. All they care for is to squeeze every dollar out o' you that they can get. They are all parasites, sucking out our blood, a child sucks the juice from an orange. Don't listen to them. They hate your leaders an' your organization an' they also hate you. They look on you as an ignorant an' a fool. Do they ask you advise about joinin' an organization? Why then, should they advise you. Keep away from them! Don't give them your money, send to Sears an' Roebuck, get your goods where they are not fightin' you. Always remember the business men are your enemies. They hate every one o' you."

After he'd said this he set down an' somehow his arguments sounded so convincin' an' yet I doubted the truth as to the business men bein' our enemies.

We had allers lived together peaceable like an' many a favor I had from them in the years gone by an' I still looked on 'em as my friends, an' loved every one o' them.

Then Al Zed Hillyer, who used to own a quarter next to mine, an' lost it because he wuz shiftless an' no account, not tendin' to business, but loffin' aroun', got up an' said:

"Brother Mills, you are right I know from experience what the business men are. This same Harry Hawkins, Brother Wise menthoned has stolen my farm, sold all my possessions an' driven me off my place. I know the business men are our enemies. I can't get a cents' worth o' credit at any o' the stores. Here's my hand an' my vow to prosper in your noble work. Well, you know all the story o' the wonderdog everybody takes his part, so before the meetin' broke up the business men all had a black eye an' Harry Hawkins had two of them."

Looked most like as if we couldn't be true to our organization, an' at the same time be friends with the business men. So trouble began to set on Henroost Center an' the farmers refused to trade with their business men. Before we woke up we had caused seven o' them to go broke an' leave the town—the noblest, truest men who ever lived, an' all fer a rainbow's pot o' gold which we never reached an' never could hope to see, in that there never wuz such a thing.

(To Be Continued.)

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editor The Tribune:

The coming campaign promises to be one of the bitterest. If not actually the bitterest ever fought in our state. Even now, nearly a month before election day the rumbling of the big guns can be heard in the distance, while the artillerymen and sharpshooters are all lining up seeking the most advantageous point from which to begin the combat. The machine guns are being entrenched, and the tanks of warfare (containing mud) are making their way to the front. Almost any day we may expect the conflict to begin in earnest.

What will be the result? None can say, but judging by appearance the victory will belong to the side which can make the most noise. What pity that campaign issues cannot be fought out on their merits, that of indulging in personalities and vicious propaganda, the opposing interests use clear cut methods. But alas, it is too much to expect. Even the presidential candidates are going back six years to find some trivial circumstance, in order to embarrass their opponent.

Looking on all these things I am not surprised that the men wanted to keep their women out of politics. That they felt the pill was not the proper environment for their delicately nurtured wives. I had hoped that the advent of the woman voter would have a refining influence on politics, but the women are just as busy slinging mud as are the men nowadays.

Who was the guy who said: "Politics are rotten?" I believe he was right.

—A Reader.

Editor The Tribune:

Reading Mr. O'Connor's speech in The Tribune it put me in mind of the morning of the referendum election a year ago last June. I met Mr. Richard Wall, organizer for, as he called it, the Nonpartisan league, but Mr. Wall always was a socialist before that time. So I believe at this time when he spoke to me as much of a socialist as when he saw that he couldn't persuade me he said "you'd better sign up now and not wait until you have to." I didn't know just what he meant by such an expression but I know how I felt about it. I read the industrial program, as they call it. It is said in one place: "It has been said that it simply leaves North Dakota free to go straight to ruin if her people so desire," and the farmers at the present time seem to work all they can that way. I have never seen such dissatisfied people, at the present time, but want to ruin our good state doing all they can to see it go to the dogs. I never heard before of such dissatisfaction and discontent as has been since the socialists got in power to run our good state.

I paid, lacking $1.75, three times as much state tax as I paid the year before. I was told by a socialist one time that one man should not have any more than the other.

Let one man do the work and the others look on. We old-timers are accustomed to paying our own bill and not wait for our fellow man to go so.

WEEKLY LIVESTOCK REVIEW
Union Stock Yards, South St. Paul, Oct. 11.—Cattle receipts at 39,000 were about 10,000 short of the previous week, while calf supplies at 5,000 were about the same and as a result, there was some improvement in market values. Most grades were quoted 25¢ to 50¢ higher with stockers and feeders showing a general advance of 50¢ and in some cases $1.00. Most of the steer trade was ticketed at $7.82 1/2 with a few sales at $8.50 to $9.00. Much of the steer stock under the 7¢ mark but a few sales were made on good stuff at $8 and higher. Canners and cutters sold largely at $3.45 to $4.75 with bulls at $4.66 largely. Vealers ruled about steady with top at $15. Choice Canadian feeders cashed at $20.50 to $21.00 but most of the stocker grades went at $4.50 to $5.00. There was a limited cow trade at $3.00 to $4.00. Dairy cow trade was slow but about steady with most sales at $5.00 to $6.00.

Hogs suffered a big setback the early part of the week but recovered slightly near the close. Top was $11.75 with bulk at $11.25 to $11.50 and mixed weights at $11.25 to $11.50. Packing cows sold at $13.25 to $14.25. Stock pigs were saleable at $11.00 to $14.75. Receipts were 32,000.

Sheep closed about steady but lambs were 75¢ to $1.00 lower for the week. Fat native lambs sold up to $10.50 with Westerns quoted at $12.25. Culls sold down to $3. Fat ewes ranged from $1.00 to $2.00 with earlings up to $1. Receipts were 33,000.

Milwaukee Woman Gained 22 Pounds By Taking Tanlac

"Tanalac is the only medicine that has done me any real good and I shall always have a good word to say for it," said Mrs. W. J. Brazell, wife of the secretary of the Electrical Workers' union, Local 899, and residing at 454 Van Buren St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"I only weighed eighty-five pounds when I started taking Tanlac and never thought I could last much longer," continued Mrs. Brazell. "For years my stomach had been in such a bad shape that I couldn't take any sort of nourishment without suffering the most awful pain afterwards, and I would bloat up with gas until I would almost suffocate. I couldn't get any restful sleep and finally got so I was eating practically nothing and fell off in weight until I was a mere shadow."

"But the way Tanlac has helped me is truly wonderful. It has given me a fine appetite and built me up to where I now weigh over a hundred and seven pounds—a gain of twenty-two, and I feel stronger and better in every way. I am so glad to see how my health is being restored that I want to recommend Tanlac to everybody, for there is no medicine like it to build up people who are weak and run-down." Driscoll by Jos. I was treated by a physician and took other remedies but got no relief. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I had helped me very much. It must be admitted by every thoughtful, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for over forty years, and today hold a record for such wonderful success as does Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

Triple Play and Two Home Runs Establish Some New Records in World Series

DETAILED PLAY OF GAME

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—The remarkable world series game which Cleveland won from Brooklyn on Sunday was in detail as follows:

First Inning
Brooklyn Olson singled; left Sheehan sacrificed Bagby to Wambagans; Griffith went out to Johnstone; Wheat flied out to Jamieson. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cleveland Jamieson bounced a single off Konetchy; a glove Wambagans singled into left field, Jamieson going to second. Speaker hunted safely and the bags were filled, Grimes falling as he attempted to field the ball. Smith hit a home run scoring Jamieson, Wambagans and Speaker ahead of him. The ball went over the right field screen. Gardner popped to Olson. Johnston scratched an infield hit which neither Grimes or Kilduff could reach. Sewell hit into a double play, Olson to Kilduff to Konetchy. Four runs; five hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Brooklyn Gardner threw out Myers. Konetchy crashed a long hit to left center for three bases. Kilduff lined out to Jamieson who doubled Konetchy at the plate. O'Neill touching the runner as he slid into the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cleveland Olson threw out O'Neill at first. Bagby flied out to Wheat. Grimes tossed out Jamieson at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Brooklyn Miller crashed a long single along the left field foul line. Grimes hit a double play, Gardner to Wambagans to Johnston. Olson singled sharply into right field, his second hit. Sheehan singled into right field Olson going to second. Griffith popped to Gardner. No runs, three hits, no errors.

Cleveland Kilduff threw out Wambagans. Kilduff also threw out Speaker at first. Smith shot a long hit into left center for three bases. Kilduff threw out Gardner at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Brooklyn Wheat fanned. Myers singled past Sewell. Myers went to second on a wild pitch but was out when he tried for third. O'Neill to Gardner. Sewell knocked down Konetchy, not one and got his man at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cleveland Johnston singled off Grimes. Left the ball going into left field. Johnston went to second on a short passed ball. Sheehan threw out Sewell at first. Johnston going to third. O'Neill was purposely passed. Bagby hit a home run into the temporary stands in center field. Johnston and O'Neill scoring ahead of him. Jamieson singled off Konetchy's late hand. Grimes was taken out and the left hander Clarence Mitchell took up the pitching burden. Wambagans flied to Wheat. Jamieson went out stealing Miller to Olson. Three runs, three hits; no errors.

Fifth Inning
Brooklyn Kilduff singled into left field. Miller singled into center field. Kilduff going to second. A triple play closed the inning. Wambagans took Mitchell's drive and touched Johnston and touched Miller to the third out. It was a triple play unassisted the first time in a world series. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Cleveland Sheehan took Speaker's grounder and threw over Konetchy's head. Speaker going to second. Smith singled into center. Speaker going to third. It was Smith's third hit. Speaker scored on Gardner's line single to left. Smith going to second. Johnston sacrificed. Konetchy to Kilduff. Sewell fouled out to Sheehan who made a nice catch near the grandstand. O'Neill was again passed off purposely. Bagby flied to O'Neill, Olson to Kilduff. One run; two hits, no error.

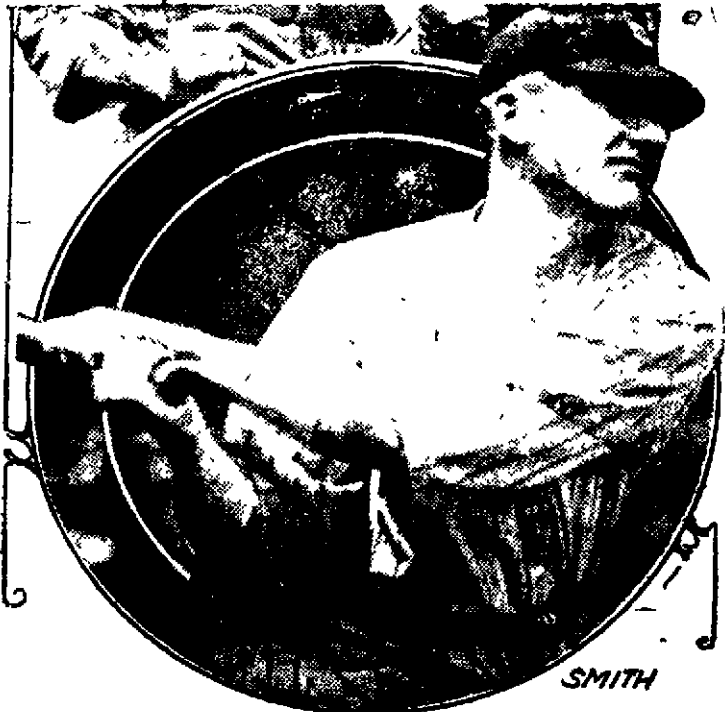

Sixth Inning
Brooklyn Olson lined out to Sewell who made a leaping catch. Wambagans tossed out Sheehan. Took the ball in right field. No runs; no hits, no errors.

Cleveland Jamieson went out Konetchy to Mitchell. Wambagans flied out to Wheat. Speaker stroked Speaker, Kilduff to Olson. No runs, on hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Brooklyn Wheat singled sharply over the middle bag. Myers forced Wheat. Sewell to Wambagans. Konetchy struck out and Myers was at most caught between the bags but O'Neill made a wild throw to second. Myers reaching second. Sewell threw out Kilduff. No runs; one hit, one error.

Cleveland Krueger went in to catch for Brooklyn. Gardner fouled to Krueger. Kilduff took Johnston's

HITS HOMER, BASES FULL

Elmer J. Smith, outfielder for Cleveland, hit a homer in Sunday's world series game with the bases full. He was born in Sandusky, O., Sept. 21, 1892, bats left handed and throws right handed. He joined Cleveland in 1913, was farmed out to Waterbury, Conn., traded to Washington in 1916 and was brought back from Washington in 1917. He is noted for his long hitting. He was a sergeant overseas during the war and has batted over 300 this season. He has played right field much of the time when right handers are pitching.

easy roller and got him at first. Sewell was patient and got his base on balls. Sewell went but stealing Krueger to Kilduff. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Brooklyn Krueger got a line single in Speaker's territory. Mitchell hit into a double play, Johnston to Sewell to Johnston. Gardner fanned. Olson's grounder and the battle was safe. Sheehan went out to Johnston unassisted. No runs; one hit, one error.

Cleveland Olson threw out O'Neill at first. Bagby got a line single over Kilduff's head. Grimes batted for Jamieson. Grimes fanned. Wambagans forced Bagby. Olson to Kilduff. No runs; one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Brooklyn Grimes went into left field and Thomas caught for Cleveland. Griffith fanned. Wheat crashed a single into left field. Myers singled over second. Wheat going to the middle bag. Wheat scored. Olson Konetchy's grounder. Johnston's glove for a hit. Myers went to third on the play. Bagby threw out Kilduff at first. Konetchy going to second. Krueger popped to Wambagans. One run, three hits, no errors.

MAKES TRIPLE PLAY UNASSISTED

William Wambagans (Wamb) put his name in baseball hall of fame in Sunday's world series play by making a triple play unassisted. Wamb plays second base for Cleveland. He was born in Cleveland March 19, 1894, bats and throws right handed, started his professional career after leaving Concordia college, with Cedar Rapids, Ia., in 1913, and was purchased next season to take the place filled by Layton for 13 years. He is a brilliant fielder and a fast runner.

Money-Back Cartridges

U. S. Cartridges are sold with the broadest guarantee ever made on ammunition. It is simply this: if you don't like them, get your money back.

Every dealer who carries U. S. Cartridges is authorized to refund, on demand, the price of the whole box to anyone who doesn't like them, and returns the unused part of the box.

U.S. CARTRIDGES

For all makes of firearms.

There is no 22 Long Rifle cartridge as accurate at distances from 50 to 250 yards as U. S. 22 N. R. A. Long Rifle Lemmo Cartridge. This is 50 more yards of accuracy than has hitherto been possible with 22 rim-fire ammunition.

What Good is a Dollar?

It's largely up to you. It depends on how you spend it—on the value to you of what you get for it—on your ability to find where that value is to be had.

Of course, it's all right to shop around a bit if you like, but why not let the other fellow make it easier for you by doing a little shopping after your dollar—by showing you what you want and where you can get most of it for your money?

It's a great idea, once you get the hang of it, and here's how!

Right in this paper you'll find dozens of advertisements offering you merchandise. Some things you'll need today; some tomorrow some next week or next year —but the point is that these merchants are coming to you, looking for your dollar and offering the best they have to get it.

You'll find that by reading the advertisements consistently today and every day, you can increase the value—to yourself—of every dollar you have to spend. The things you see advertised are almost invariably as represented. The advertisers' statements are usually safer to trust than your own judgment. Advertised misrepresentation is business suicide.

Read the advertisements and increase the value of Your Dollar!

Several Persons Killed and Wounded in Cork and Dublin
in Clashes

Ballinacorney, Oct. 12.—Constables Kenny and Crawford were shot dead and a sergeant and two other constables were badly wounded when a police motor car, running between Ross Commons, to Ballinacorney, Mill was fired upon today.

London, Oct. 12.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein movement regard the speech made at Carnarvon, Wales, on Saturday by Premier Lloyd George as almost a declaration of war on Ireland," says the Dublin correspondent of the London Times.

There are many signs, continues the correspondent, that the executive department in Dublin intends to bring matters to a head as quickly as possible by a concentrated campaign against disorders which by inflicting general hardships on the country may make crime and lawlessness "truly unpopular." Projected measures are said to include complete stoppage of the Irish railway, drastic reduction of the postal service until all railway workers return to duty and until there is a cessation of raids on the mails.

ATTACK LORRY

Cork, Ireland, Oct. 12.—An attack on a military lorry in the Malin district of Cork yesterday resulted in the death of the driver and the wounding of three soldiers. It developed in another fight between soldiers on the scene and the attacking parties which according to a military head quarter's report numbered 150 men armed with machine guns, rifles and bombs.

The scene of the attack was near the town of Kanturk, the residents of which later closed their houses and shops and fled to the country, fearing reprisals.

TWO OFFICERS KILLED

Dublin, Ireland, Oct. 12.—While arrests were being made the military raids in a suburb of Dublin two officers were shot dead one non-commissioned officer was wounded and one civilian killed and one wounded according to an official report made public today.

WACHSWEIN'S 61ST DAY

DUTY IS PLAIN IN NORTH DAKOTA

In an eleventh hour rally, the Nonpartisan League machine is seeking to secure support for Governor Frazier on the ground that he is a member in good standing of the Republican party.

"Be Regular," is their appeal. How far this specious campaign slogan will avail in this enlightened day and generation remains to be seen. Granted for the purposes of argument only that it is sound political wisdom to vote a straight Republican ticket this fall, by what right can Governor Frazier, Townley or Lemke claim title to such party support.

Governor Frazier campaigned Montana in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. No party regularly there. He treats party labels as lightly in North Dakota when he goes before the people and urges the support of Democrats who happen to stand for his socialist schemes.

Arthur C. Townley enters the Colorado primaries in behalf of the Democratic ticket without any pang of party conscience. He sneers openly at party allegiance. The idea upon which the league is founded is antagonistic to party rule.

The Republicans of North Dakota will turn a deaf ear to the siren call of the politician who chants the moth worn argument of party regularity.

"There ain't no such animal," in North Dakota. The species has been extinct ever since Townley and his tribe of red agitators captured the party machinery and debauched it to the usages of the socialist party.

State and national issues in North Dakota are separate and distinct. Republicans and Democrats have joined hands this year to clean house and those politicians who seek to aid Townley and his exploiters by pussyfooting around the state with the antediluvian appeal, "Vote 'er straight," should get a cool reception.

Senator Henry Lee Myers of Montana, a Democrat of the old school, refuses to be drawn into any allegiance with Townley through any party appeal. He has openly repudiated the Democratic state ticket which wears the red label of the socialist party.

North Dakota needs the same kind of courage and to set aside party regularity this year and support the fusion state ticket.

This state has suffered enough from the men who are exploiting it and fostering class hatred. There is no necessity to make any sacrifices for them upon the altar of party regularity.

Turn a deaf ear to the wily politician who advises you to be regular this fall and vote for Frazier and the other Townley henchmen because they happen to be running on the Republican ballot in North Dakota through virtue of controlling the party machinery.

Just remember that Mr. Frazier and Mr. Townley do not care a fig for party regularity. They are interested only in getting into office by the easiest route possible.

If North Dakota is sincere in its determination to win next month, the voters must have the same indifference to party as Frazier, Townley, Lemke and the other state socialistic leaders.

FIX DOLLAR AS
RATES FOR MAILSweeping Changes in Present
Postal Regulations Are
Urged in Report

TO FIX MAXIMUM RATES

Madrid, Oct. 12.—Changes of sweeping importance in the postal relations of the world will be effected as a result of the deliberations of the International Postal Union congress during the last week. Several committees dealing with various subjects already have drafted their reports which must be submitted to the full general committee and thereafter to the whole congress for final approval but as the committee in most cases fairly represent the views of the entire body of delegates their reports are virtually certain of acceptance.

The notable items on which the committees reported favorably are:

- 1.—On Gold Dollar Basis. Establishment of international payments for the transportation of mails on a gold dollar basis.
- 2.—The fixing of an increased maximum rate for postage on international mail but with the proviso that the United States and other countries may retain the present rates for the time being according to their own ideas, as long as they do not exceed the maximum accepted by the union.
- 3.—In future congresses only part countries will have voting power colonies being excluded from voting although they may send delegates.
- 4.—Creation of a Pan American postal union.

Money Transition

There was a long discussion over the question of payment for the transit of mails, owing to the extreme variation in money values in European countries since the war. But all the delegates eventually agreed that some firm basis must be chosen and the gold dollar was adopted as the most stable.

The eastern and western hemispheres were sharply divided on the question of an increase in international postal rates, the American opposing augmentation on the ground that such measure was calculated to injure commercial interests greatly and was unnecessary for revenue purposes. The new maximum rate had not yet been fixed by the committee having the matter in hand, but the United States and the Latin American countries declared they would not agree to an increase. The committee seeking a compromise finally accepted the proposal that the western hemisphere could fix its own rates if they did not exceed the maximum eventually adopted by the union. The question of voting power for colonies was hotly debated Germany joining the Latin American.

He will speak in Philadelphia on Friday night and will then go to Washington where he will board a special train Sunday for a week's speaking trip through six border and southern states. He will return to Boston on October 24. He will be accompanied by Job Hedges of New York and Governor Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky.

81,545 MOTOR
CARS IN STATE

The growth of the use of automobiles in North Dakota is shown by figures of the motor vehicle registration department. In 1916 there were 40,416 automobiles and motor trucks registered. This increased to 62,094 in 1917 to 71,847 in 1918 and 81,545 in 1919 and the first six months of 1920 91,545 vehicles were registered. This is about one motor vehicle to each eight persons in the state.

CONSTRUCTION
OF ROADS BY
STATE URGEDHighway Engineer Would Enter
Into Building on Large
Scale

BUY MATERIALS ALSO

Increased Auto Fees and Increased Salaries Also Are Urged

Increased appropriations for the state highway department a fund to enable the state to enter into actual construction work on a large scale, the purchase and lease to contractors by the state of cement, steel, timber and other materials, a bond issue for state highway construction and the use of convict labor by the state highway commission in the maintenance and manufacturing work are recommended by W. H. Robinson state engineer, in his report to Governor Frazier.

Great stress is laid in the voluminous report on the recommendations for increased salaries and an increased budget for the department. Among the recommendations are:

1. An adequate budget to enable the state to publish a bulletin regularly.
2. Expansion of the principle of state aid and providing larger state aid fund to enable counties to secure state and federal aid on highway projects up to 75 per cent of the cost of construction.
3. Construction and maintenance of the entire state highway system at present 5,000 miles by use of state funds alone without using county money.

Double Auto Fees!

In addition to a bond issue raising funds it is suggested that the present automobile registration fees be doubled.

Require drivers of automobiles to be licensed and prohibiting persons under 16 years of age from driving on public thoroughfares.

Prohibit the working out of political and making the contract system compulsory.

Make convict labor available for use by the state highway commission for such work as maintaining the new Missouri river bridge making concrete pipe culverts sign boards etc. using jail inmates for road work in towns and counties.

The report points out that millions of dollars which must be matched by the state will be available from the federal government for road work. On June 1, 1920, it states the total federal aid road work constructed or under contract was $1,782,007.40 the total mileage 607.61 and the average cost per mile $2,920.50. There is in prospect federal aid to the amount of $8,500,000 if the state matches the amount it is asked.

Rebels in Criticism

The reports refer to what it says is considerable criticism directed against the highway department on the cost of engineering. It shows that in 1917 the cost for preliminary surveying per mile was $26.49 and for engineering $29.72 per mile. In 1920 the cost had advanced to about $45 per mile for surveying and $65 per mile for engineering. The report defends the increased cost and asserts it is relatively low.

In the matter of supervision and inspection of construction if criticism is to be directed against the department it is to be on the ground that inadequate inspection both as to quality and number of inspectors, engineers etc. has been provided rather than that it cost too much, says the report.

Advocating the taking over of the maintenance of the designated state highways and regarding the present maintenance work the report says: "It is a foregone conclusion at this time at least that a patrol system is doomed to unsatisfactory results generally. Farmers cannot be relied upon to drag the proper time in adding that the proper time is when farm work is probably more important than road work."

Regarding Irrigation

Regarding irrigation the report says: "The possibilities in western North Dakota for irrigation on an extensive scale are very limited indeed. There are however numerous opportunities for small projects along most of the streams. Occasionally where the topographical features are favorable for easily constructing reservoirs the spring runoff from coulees and other small water courses may be stored for use on limited tracts. It is believed that these small projects should be encouraged and all assistance possible rendered."

Quoting a law in existence in South Dakota a state engineer urges this legislation be enacted to control the flow of artesian wells, saying the water supply furnished by Dakota sandstone and third water bearing strata is being rapidly depleted and that great deal of water is wasted.

Although there are ninety-eight employees in the department a number more in the motor vehicle registration department it is stated the force is inadequate.

Among other things the engineer urges the authorization of the appointment of a traffic master and assistant. Higher salaries are urged in the report stating that these should be prescribed except for the executive (Continued on Page Seven).

NEW ORDER FOR

HARDING BELIEFSenator Outlines His Views in Important Statement Delivered

SWINGS OUT OF STATE

Candidate Leaves Front Porch
for Fourth Speech-Making
Trip Outside Ohio

Marion, O., Oct. 12.—After an important statement delivered yesterday afternoon in which he declared the old order of world affairs was ended Senator Warren G. Harding Republican nominee for the presidency was to leave this afternoon on his fourth speech-making trip outside of Ohio. His circuit will carry him through Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana and will wind up Saturday night at St. Louis. It may be his last trip away from home during the campaign.

Senator Harding said in his statement here that America must play its part in aiding formation of an association of nations that will discourage or tend to prevent war and that will encourage or tend to encourage a better understanding.

Such an association he said could be formed without sacrifice of American sovereignty or impairment of the American constitution.

Explaining why he restated his proposal in a statement the senator said that while he was unalterably opposed to going into the league of nations as that particular proposition stands he wanted the people to understand also my thought of co-operation.

The senator's statement said it seems to me that there should not remain a shadow of a doubt as to my exact position as regards the proposed league of nations as drafted and submitted to the senate and as regards the great world sentiment for a better understanding among nations to advance civilization. Let me restate my position as explicitly as I can.

First—I am unalterably opposed to going into the league of nations as that particular proposition stands. That proposal is contemptuous of and potentially destructive of the American constitution. It is not favored by the American people.

Second—I am in favor of a world association that will discourage or tend to prevent war and that will encourage or tend to encourage a better understanding among the nations of the earth. The old order of things is done with not only in America but throughout the world and the United States always quick with sympathy always just and usually led by common sense must play its part in this new order.

Preserve Constitution

Third—I believe such an association can be formulated without wrecking the constitution that remains the cornerstone of our liberties and of our happiness without seizing or filching the sovereignty that is our pride and our inspiration to the living and good works.

Fourth—I earnestly believe that the conscience of the people and the sense of justice and the plain common sense of the United States can be depended upon by the rest of the world and that it would be stupid as well as unlawful to attempt to chain our sympathies our sense of justice and our common sense to the selfish ambition and aims of foreign nations or groups of nations whose ideals are not the same as ours never have been and never will be.

Fifth—it is my purpose when elected to take the whole people into my confidence as regards these matters to seek their advice and most importantly to act constantly with their advice and to this end it will be my pleasure as well as my duty to call into conference with me the best minds the clearest minds that America affords. I thank God that the time has come when I can ask the advice of American women and especially the mothers of America.

BANK MAKES ITS "PROFITS" THROUGH
SACRIFICE OF OTHER STATE BRANCHESOver $30,000 of Profits Is Money Lost to State Treasurer's Office
by Switch of Deposits

How the Bank of North Dakota makes profits is shown in figures compiled here on deposits in the bank by the state treasurer. The average monthly balance of the state treasurer in the Bank of North Dakota from Sept. 30, 1919 to Aug. 31, 1920 one year was $1,230,023.22.

Before the Bank of North Dakota came into existence the state received interest of 2 per cent or more from banks on this amount of money. The Bank of North Dakota pays 2 per cent and then deposits the money in the state treasury.

The Bank of North Dakota paid interest on a $1,000,000 loan in the state treasury for a year at the rate of 4 per cent and made a profit of $40,000.00.

AMERICAN WOMAN
ARABIAN CAPTAIN

NEW YORK—Word has been received here by Red Cross officials that Miss Anna Fisher of New York formerly a Red Cross worker in France and who is now with the Near East Relief Workers in Syria has been made a full-fledged captain in the Arabian army of Prince Faisal at Damascus. Miss Fisher is in charge of the industrial education of women and children in Damascus. Although the French have deposed Prince Faisal the prince's Arabian army is said to be virtually intact.

LIFE PRISONER WALKS OUT OF PRISON GATESHarry Orton Believed to Have Despaired of Chances for Pardon

WAS AN "HONOR" MAN

Life in the penitentiary pulled on Harry Orton serving a life term for murder. So he walked away.

And he is still alive. It is supposed for he has been absent from the prison about 18 hours and hasn't returned.

Orton came from Hansboro, Towns County, near the Canadian border and had been in the prison since 1915. He was sentenced for murder.

Orton was known as a model prisoner and rather competent. He has been an honor man for quite a time at the prison. He formerly worked outside on the farm. Later he was put in charge of the chicken ranch and ran it successfully. He formerly was a farmer. Later he was employed in the office.

As an "honor" man he was allowed privilege and he walked out of the prison gates. It is believed by Warden Stair that he despaired of getting a pardon. He had made inquiry of the secretary of the pardon board and it is said and found his chances were not bright.

The five prisoners that have escaped since he assumed control of the prison in the spring were all honor men but a few who he caught there. Warden Stair said and they were continued on their honor.

Two negro prisoners are said also to have tried to escape the other day but were caught as they were mounting the brick wall.

According to an Italian scientist who has studied hydrogen gas is the compound for motor vehicles.

Since 1902 there has been a steady increase of women entering the educational profession.

League Park, Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Cleveland, the American league pennant winners are the world baseball champions of 1920. They defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers by a score of 5 to 2 today and won the big championship in baseball. The "big pole" Coveleskie, winning his third game of the series, held Brooklyn helpless. The series ended with five victories for Cleveland and two for Brooklyn.

The championship rested with the winner of the game in a series of three. The Indians made a desperate fight to win the fifth game of their own grounds today. Had they lost the next game would have been played in Brooklyn.

Play by innings

FIRST INNING

Brooklyn—Olson popped to Gardner. Sheehan flied out to Jamieson. Johnston took Griffith's grounder in the first. It was an error. What I popped to Wambaganss. No runs, no hits, one error.

Cleveland—Jamieson out at first. Konetchv's unassisted Wambaganss flew out to Wheat. Speaker popped to Sheehan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Brooklyn—Sewell threw out Myers at first. Gardner threw out Konev. Kilduff out at first. Sewell to Johnston. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cleveland—Kilduff threw out Smith at first. Sheehan took Gardner's grounder and threw over heret. Sheehan's head and Gardner was allowed to walk down to second. Johnston walked. Sewell lined out to Griffith. Kilduff threw out O'Neill at first. No runs, no hits, one error.

THIRD INNING

Brooklyn—Miller fanned. Grimes lost a Texas leaguer back of short. Sewell muffed Olson's grounder and it went for an error. Sheehan's grounder hit Olson on the leg and Olson was declared out. Sheehan was credited with a hit. Griffith flied out to Smith. No runs, two hits, one error.

Cleveland—Coveleskie fanned. Grimes took Jamieson's drive and threw him out at first. Wambaganss caught an infield hit. Kilduff threw out Speaker at first. No runs, one hit, no error.

FOURTH INNING

Brooklyn—Wheat singled but was out trying to make second on a slide to Wambaganss. Gardner took Myers' bunt and threw him out at first. Konev flied to Jamieson. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cleveland—Smith out to Konev. Unassisted Gardner hit past Kilduff. Johnston singled to right. Gardner pulled up at third. Sewell flied to Wheat. Gardner scored on a delayed steal. It was stolen base for Johnston. O'Neill flied out to Griffith. One run, two hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING

Brooklyn—Kilduff lined out to Speaker. Sewell took Miller's grounder and threw him out at first. Grimes popped to Coveleskie. Konev's bunt was wicked smash and threw him out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Cleveland—Coveleskie fanned. Jamieson smashed an infield hit. Wambaganss stole second. Jamieson scored. (Continued on Page Two)

FARMERS MISLED SAYS PRESIDENT OF GRAIN MEN

Convinced They Are Abused by the Entire Country Follow
Demagogues

COOPERATION IS URGED

Annual Convention of National Association Opens in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 12.—The next movement in this country will be an agrarian movement, P. E. Goodrich of Winchester, Ind., president of the Grain Dealers National association, declared at the opening of the association's annual convention here yesterday. He said that the farmers, misled by ambitious politicians, were forming organizations for class legislation stronger than the nation's labor forces.

"The farmers, nearer 100 per cent American than any other class, have been all but convinced that they are abused by the entire country, that the fruits of their labor are taken without anything like a fair return," he said.
"Through the great organizations they are building up they seek to eliminate competition through class legislation.
Here the danger lies. They want the legal right for collective marketing, to combine and hold their products until the price is forced up, thus compelling the consumer to pay unfair prices."

Wheed Public.
"Designing politicians will aid in the movement. Farmers are more active in politics than business men.
They will wield a great power."
Mr. Goodrich declared the public had been misled as to grain marketing conditions. "It might be interesting for the public to know," he said,

"that the cost to the down trodden farmer of handling grain by the country grain merchant, the terminal market buyer, including all weighing fees, interest on money, inspection and all other charges except freight is less than ten per cent of the price paid to the producer. When grain was very cheap the cost was five per cent.
It is well known fact that in no other country of the world are farm products handled as cheaply to the producer."

Co-operative Marketing.
Co-operative marketing of farm products by the producers will not prove a success, E. E. Clement, president of the Texas Grain Dealers association, told the annual convention of the National Grain Dealers' association here yesterday.

"Some say the producer and the consumer must be brought closer together, urging producers to form cooperative societies, construct farmers' elevators and otherwise engage in the marketing of farm products," Mr.
Clement said.

"They can do that and do it successfully if they quit farming and go to grain merchandising. When they do this the farmer will have traded one set of so-called middlemen for another with the added liability of paying for the education and the mistakes of the newly created agency, while sacrificing the constructive force of individual initiative and the aggressive impulse of self-interest. These qualities are inherent only in those engaged in business for themselves. The competitive system that evokes all the physical and mental faculties of man cannot be surpassed. The great grain exchanges, dominated by supply and demand, are the most economical food distributing agencies in the world."

FREIGHT MOVES FASTER, FINDS INVESTIGATOR

Roads Are Reducing Number of Cars in Bad Border and Getting Heavier Loads

SOME ARE OPTIMISTIC

BY RUS SIMONTON,
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12.—"The railroads of the United States are now moving freight more miles a day than ever before."

This is the statement of the Railway Executives' association. The same report adds:

"The roads are reducing the number of cars in bad order and they are not only getting heavier loading per car, but are securing, through the co-operation of shippers, quicker loading and unloading."

Now, after ten days spent in the offices of one railway and aboard its freight trains and in its yards, I can understand why the Nickel Plate road is one of the railways which the executives' association says is moving its freight rapidly.

When Uncle Sam took his hand from the throbbles of the nation's locomotives, he left the owners of the roads more troubles than the oldest railroaders had known.

Many Obstacles.
Regardless of the merits of federal control, no one seriously denies that when the railroads went back to private hands last March, these were the conditions:

1. Thousands of freight cars and miles of track out of repair.
2. Labor conditions bad.
3. Congestion of freight and a lack of co-operation on the part of shippers.

Hardly had the roads begun their work of reconstruction when the switchmen's strike broke and the whole machinery of railroad operation was disorganized.

Now seven months of private ownership with the incentive of reward for efficiency and loyalty, have resulted in the almost complete "come-back"
of America's railways.

All Are Optimistic.

From President J. J. Berner, who gave me the letters which enabled me to ride the freight trains of the Nickel Plate, to the brakemen on the cars, I found the same spirit of optimism for the future.

Before I left the Stony Island terminal yards of the Nickel Plate at Chicago on a freight train trip to Buffalo, I spent several days in a short kindergarten course in the great mystery of railroading. Ben Place, a freight representative, who tried to find a car for me, and brother officials, gave me their views.

"Bad order cars, terminal congestion and delay on the part of consignees is responsible for most freight delays," they told me. "Things are better now than they were and we have cleared our own yards rather thoroughly."

"It is hard to make some shippers unload their cars and lift the bills of lading because of the money shortage.
Some of them have no storage room and would rather pay demurrage on the cars than move the goods. They are better now but still we have trouble."

Berner told me that the little shippers and consignees were the greatest "demurrage offenders."

"Sometimes a huckster," he said,
"will use our car as his storeroom and garage, and keep it out of service longer than he should."

No Idle Term.
I found that "co-operation of the shipper" is no idle term or matter of theory. Much of the railways' efficiency depends upon the shipper. The Interstate Commerce commission has advised that all cars be loaded about their marked carrying capacity. That means that a car stenciled "50,000 pounds" shall be loaded to 50,000 or even 50,000 pounds.

The same is true in the matter of prompt loading and unloading, and along the line I found many other matters well known to shippers in which they can assist the road usualy of little inconvenience to themselves.

FARGO WAGES WAR ON RATS

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 12.—Rats dwelling in Fargo will have to move, says
R. Scott Zimmerman of Washington, government biologist, who is investigating the city.

Thousands upon thousands of large, brown house rats, such as spread the black death through Europe during the middle ages, infest the city, Mr.
Zimmerman says. Headquarters of them are at the city garbage dump.

"About dusk the rats at the dump are most noticeable," says Mr. Zimmerman. "As soon as night falls, they come out by the thousands and start what might be called their evening frolic. One can hear them for blocks around, squeaking and fighting and making almost every possible noise among the cans and rubbish of the dump."

But, he continues, the rodents by no means confine their activities to the dump. Many thousands live in the business and residential section of Fargo. And with severe winter weather makes the dump an untenable dwelling place, many more will come trooping into the town.

The rats do damage amounting to many thousands of dollars in property loss, says the federal inspector, but that is the least important phase of the harm they do. As one of the worst forms of pestilence carriers known to man, they present a grave menace to the health of the city, according to him.

The extension department of the North Dakota Agricultural college here, city officials and boy scouts will join the modern piped in the move to drive out the rats.

Look Out for Rheumatism As Winter Approaches

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny disease germ that infests the blood, that physicians are beginning to realize that this source of the disease is becoming quite prevalent. Of course a dis-blood cannot be reached by local remedies applied to the surface.

One remedy that has given splen-

Rheumatism is S.S.S., the fine old

S.S.S. acts by driving out of the

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J.
R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Synanora Street,
Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which go often develops at such times.
That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day,
and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells.
I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E.
Pinkham's medicine and be strong'.
I will be glad to have you use my name

one."—Mrs. H. A. FAIRBURN, 608

SOVIET PLEADS WITH WRANGLER FOR ARMISTICE

Conditions Along South Russia Front Assume Serious Aspect

NEW STATE IS FORMED

Lithuanians Set Up New Government and Direct Note to Poland

London Oct 12—Conditions along the south Russian front have assumed a serious aspect for the Bolsheviks, according to advices received here. General Baron Wrangel's troops are continuing to advance north of Crimea and the sea of Azov. Nicolai, the principal Russian naval station on the Black Sea, is said to have been captured by anti-Bolshevik insurgents, although an agreement looking to an armistice has been reached with Poland and a large number of Soviet troops are in position to be rushed to south Russia. The Soviet government is reported to have made peace proposals to General Wrangel. General Lahovitzky in command of anti-Bolshevik forces, in Camby recently placed his troops at the disposal of General Wrangel and now General Samonoff, who for the past two years has been fighting the Soviet armies in Siberia has taken a similar step. General Budenny, leader of Bolshevik cavalry during the recent offensive in Galicia, is said to have turned against the Bolsheviks and to be planning an attack on Kiev.

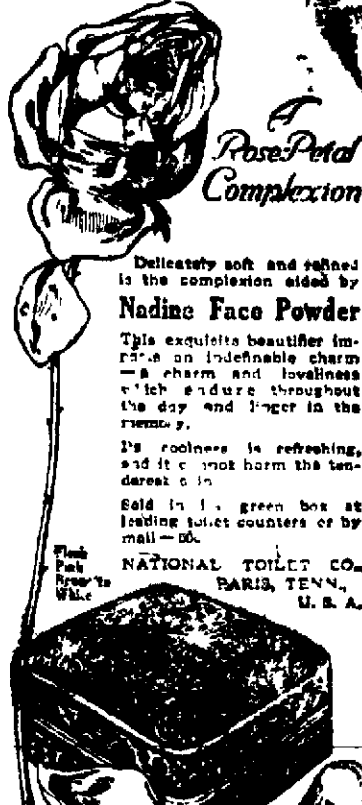

FORM NEW STATE

Warsaw, Oct 12—The new central Lithuanian government at Vilna has proclaimed the creation of a new state says a Lida dispatch. A series of proclamations has been issued by the so-called government. The first proclaims the new state and promises to convolve a diet in the near future. The second addressed to the Polish government, asks forgiveness of the mutiny of General Zeigowski's troops, and gives notice of the creation of the new state the territory of which it is set forth includes the town of Grodno, with the River Niem as the dividing line from Poland.

RETALIATION SOUGHT

London Oct 12—The Warsaw correspondent of the London Times says "The Polish government never recognized the treaty between the Bolsheviks and Lithuanians, which the latter regard as their title to Vilna. To understand the state of mind of the troops of General Zeigowski who occupied Vilna it must be remembered that two days after the Lithuanian-Bolshevik treaty was signed the Bolsheviks set up an extraordinary commission at Vilna which sent 1,500 Poles to their death. These victims had many kinsmen in Zeigowski's division.

Riga, Oct 12—The Russo-Polish armistice and preliminary peace treaty were not signed last night. It was announced a delay until Tuesday afternoon resulted from the impossibility of getting the Ukrainian text prepared. There are many unverified rumors of late disagreements. It is known Secretary Lorenz, of the Bolshevik delegation, telephoned to the Poles shortly before nine o'clock last night and apologized for inability to complete the Ukrainian text for signature.

WISCONSIN AND MINNESOTA STILL IN DISPUTE OVER LINE

Duluth, Minn., Oct 12.—The boundary controversy between Minnesota and Wisconsin, which has been in the courts for several years, has entered into one of its final phases with the acceptance of both states of a commission to survey the boundary line through lower St. Louis bay, involved in the original suit-pending in the supreme court.

Counsel for Minnesota and Wisconsin asked by the United States supreme court to name William B. Patton, Duluth engineer, John G. D. Mack of Madison, Wis., and Samuel S. Gannett of Washington, D. C., as a commission, which will act as a board of arbitration and will make a survey of the exact boundary in accordance with the recent decision of the court.

The naming of the commission awakens a new interest in the dispute which has been in the courts for a number of years. Both the Minnesota and Wisconsin legislatures having failed to decide upon a boundary line.

PARK ELK WILL BE PROTECTED IN YELLOWSTONE

4,000 Were Shot During 1919—Many Protests Ape Brought Forth

Helena, Mont. Oct 12.—This is going to be the last year for the elk on the Montana side of the Yellowstone National park according to "Jake" DeHart, state game warden. And it may be that an aroused public opinion and a late season will unite to prevent this year a repetition of the slaughter in 1919, when Mr DeHart estimates that more than 4,000 park elk were killed by hunters in the two counties adjoining the great national playground and game preserve.

The branch line of the Northern Pacific railway was unable to handle all of them and scores of carcasses spoiled at stations along the line.

Many Protests.

DeHart predicts changes in Montana's game laws by the legislature, which meets in January. Protests against the elk slaughter have come in from almost all parts of the nation.

Present laws not only permit each person owning a hunting license to kill one of these tame elk, but provide that a second one may be killed upon payment of an additional license fee of $25. The teeth, hide and antlers of the animal are worth more than that, saying nothing of the meat.

No Thrill Offered.

When the snows come, the elk leave the park in herds of thousands. They are so numerous and so gentle that hunting them offers no greater thrill than it would to walk into a stockyard, select a suitable animal and shoot it. Instances are recorded in which a hunter changed his mind after shooting, left the animal lying where it fell, and proceeded to kill his second choice.

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. Every body now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Society women wash their own hair, not because it is a fad but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made catarrh mixture. You can do this at a cost of about 3 cents. A shampoo by getting some catarrh from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head as with most preparations. The dandruff, excess of oil, and dirt dissolves and entirely disappears in the washing water. You do not need so much that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.

EVENTS AND GOSSIP FOR THE FANS

INDIAN BACKERS HILARIOUS OVER MONDAY'S GAME

They Were Expectant, Too, Hoping to See Final Game Copped by The Tribe

MAILS WELL-SUPPORTED

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Cleveland fans were happy and expectant today, after yesterday's win in the world series, when "Duster" Mails held the Dodgers to three hits and Cleveland won, 1 to 0. If the Indians won today, it meant the fifth game and the series. The winning of the game yesterday can be traced to an additional edge in batting on the part of the Indians for the difference in the macing power of the two contenders eventually spelled the difference between the solitary run of Cleveland and the string of 6-players which rewarded Brooklyn's efforts to connect with "Duster" Mails' wide sweeps and sharp breaking bend-ers.

Indian Support Better
The Indians' team batting average in the sixth game was the same as that of Sunday, being .247 but the total result was one run instead of the eight accumulated yesterday. Brooklyn, on the other hand, slumped before the batting delivery of Mails from 2.60 to .214.

The credit for the victory cannot, however, be accorded entirely to Mails' superiority over Sherrow Smith for the Cleveland hurler was backed by a better blend of team defense than that behind the National boxman. Seven Brooklyners were left stranded with potential runs in the making while but four Indians remained on the sacks after the third out.

Although Cleveland had two men on bases at one time during the second inning it was not until the sixth session that the runs which gave the home team the victory was pushed across. The making of the winning tally was neither startling nor unorthodox, but stood out like a light-house on a stormy night. After Evans had tied out to Konetchy, his only hitless appearance at the plate during the game, Waumbacher was out. Olson to Konetchy. Manager Captain Speaker shot a single to left. With two down the stage did not appear to be set for run-making with Smith slanting them over with plenty of speed and curves. George Burns proved to be the batter who was to deliver the blow that wrecked the Robins' hopes of again tying at the series. He caught one of Smith's sweeps on the very tip of his bat and lifted the sphere clear to the center field bleachers, the ball hitting the low rail and evading both the hands of Zack Wheat and those of several men and boys who tried to clutch it, being finally retrieved by Myers, far too late to prevent Speaker from scoring. Olson protested, claiming interference with the ball, but the umpires refused to consider the claim. The peculiar circumstances which have prevailed the playing of the Cleveland club to date was again shown in this play, for Burns is a native son of Ohio, having been born in Niles.

DRIVES IN ONLY RUN

George Burns, who alternates at first base with "Doc" Johnston for Cleveland, put yesterday's world series game on ice by cracking out a double after Speaker singled, and Speaker scored the only run of the game.

Crowd Is Series Largest
Wrought up to a fever pitch of enthusiasm by the sensational play of Sunday, this city and surrounding sections turned out another tremendous gathering of fans for yesterday's games. Paid admission totalled 27,194, the largest in the series to date. The gate receipts amounted to $82,989 which will be divided 10 per cent. to the national commission and the balance equally between the owners of the two contending clubs and the treasuries of the major leagues.

Weather conditions were unlike those prevailing at any of the preceding games. The sky was overcast and a stiff breeze blew across the outfield causing the fielders considerable trouble.

There were plenty of opportunities to cheer both the home players and the invaders. Several brilliant fielding features stood out, and by a strange coincidence, two were made by Shortstop Sewell who was also charged with two errors, both of which placed Brooklyn runners on the sacks. In the sixth Sewall assisted in a second and third out with two great scoops and throws to first of hard hit balls from the bats of Wheat and Myers. In the same session Catcher O'Neill snapped a fast throw to George Burns after Neils had walked to first, and caught the runner several feet off the bag despite his desperate effort to regain the bag. Pitcher Smith engineered a somewhat similar play in the eighth when he flashed the ball across the diamond to Konetchy and caught

WIRELESS OVER ENTIRE WORLD BRITISH PLAN

Would Make Great System for Use Both in War and in Peace by Empire

COST WOULD BE HUGE

By MILTON BRONNER
European Manager, N. E. A.

London, Oct. 12.—For strategic use by her navy in case of war, and for commercial use by her mercantile marine and her greatest business houses in times of peace, the British government is seriously considering the construction of an all-British government owned and controlled wireless chain all around the world.

The initial cost is estimated at something like $5,000,000, of which about $4,000,000 would be borne by the imperial government, and the balance by the governments of the dominions of India, Australia and South Africa.

It also estimated that the annual loss on the system would be about $500,000, of which $250,000 would be sustained by the imperial government and the balance by the dominions.

Distances Not Too Great
One of the great features of the plan outlined by the government, which by the government to investigate its feasibility and cost, is that none of the distances between stations would be nearly as great as would appear necessary in such a globe-girdling process.

For Oxford, England, would be linked up with a wireless station at Cairo, Egypt, 2239 miles distant. Also with Bathurst in West Africa, 2778 miles away. Cairo would be linked up with Baghdad, 793 miles away, with Nairobi in Central Africa, 2130 miles away, and the latter with Windhoek in South Africa, 1923 miles away. Cairo would also be connected up with Poona, in India, 2782 miles away. Poona with Singapore, in the Malay Straits, 2344 miles away, Singapore with Hongkong, China, 1611 miles with Port Darwin, Australia, 2021 miles, and with Perth, in Australia, 2430 miles away. Australia is already connected with New Zealand, Oxford also may be connected with Montreal, 3194 miles away.

The importance of such a chain of government-owned and controlled high power wireless stations for the British navy needs no stressing.

Great Aid to Owners
But it will be equally important for the further development of the British mercantile marine. Most ships nowadays have wireless outfits that can keep them in touch with the home ports in crossing the Atlantic and in sailing through the Mediterranean, but when they get into the far southern Atlantic and Pacific waters it is probably a different story. By means of a series of stations, such as the British government is considering, any firm of ship owners could get into touch with their ships and direct them from their course to more profitable journeys.

The British Marconi company has proposed to the government the construction of twenty-six main trunk stations, 50, main-feeder stations, 100 local feeder stations and 200 small local stations. This would necessitate over 17,000 employees who would be mobilized in time of war.

The government's committee has recommended that the proposition be rejected, stating it would be better for Britain and her dominions and colonies to undertake the scheme themselves.

The Gasoline Situation in 1910 and Now

IN 1910 there were approximately 400 thousand cars in the United States.

To operate these cars there was available a gasoline production of 750 million-gallons, or, approximately, 1875 gallons per car.

In 1919 there were more than 7 million cars and trucks operating in the United States.

To supply these engines there was available, according to Bureau of Mines Report, 3 billion, 957 million gallons of gasoline, or, approximately, 565 gallons per car.

In neither case has consideration been given to the demand of tractors, stationary gas engines, or the gasoline required by the arts and industries. Nor have we considered the large volume of this product shipped abroad annually.

The above figures are presented so that you may visualize one of the problems the petroleum industry has been called upon to solve in the past decade.

In 1910 the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) marketed about 20 percent of the gasoline output in the United States, or approximately 150 million gallons. In 1919 this Company sold about 640 million gallons of gasoline, or about 17 percent of the total for that year.

It has been the task of the 7 men who manage the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for the 5124 stockholders, not one of whom owns as much as 10 percent of the total, to expand the organization not only to keep pace with, but to keep ahead of the extraordinary and persistent demand for gasoline.

How well they have succeeded is illustrated clearly by the fact that in the 10-year period above mentioned, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has taken a leading part in increasing gasoline production 440 percent, while crude oil production increased only 94 percent.
